A LITTLE BIT ABOUT ME:

I'm Becky, a Graphic Designer and Creative Artworker with over ten years of experience working in fast-paced agency environments. I have a strong grasp of design principles, production workflows, and print processes, and I approach every project with a mix of creativity and strategic thinking.

I'm detail-driven, adaptable, and thrive under pressure, turning complex briefs into cohesive, visually engaging results.

I'm also a big believer in collaboration and clear communication, which helps me build strong relationships and deliver work that hits both creative and commercial goals.

BIGGEST ACHIEVEMENTS

Over the course of my career, I have successfully led and contributed to a wide range of impactful projects for Lenovo and Adobe.

I've spearheaded the creation of brand identities for startups, helping them stand out in competitive markets, and refreshed the visual identities of established brands to drive renewed customer engagement.

My biggest achievement was being part of the team that designed the 2019 Prospectuses for the University of Surrey.

MY EXPERIENCE AND EDUCATION

ROOM11: SENIOR GRAPHIC DESIGNER (3 MONTH CONTRACT)

Led the creative development of a strategic brand campaign from concept through execution, collaborating closely with strategy and copy, defining the visual direction and core messaging. Produced high-impact design assets across digital and print, including campaign identity, key visuals, website landing pages, and social content. This was a very valuable experience and a great introduction to working a big project with very tight deadlines.

ROSEWOOD MAINTENANCE & LANDSCAPING: COMMUNICATIONS MANAGER (2024 - 2025)

In this role, I took a major step into CRM and email design, implementing a new CRM system with audience segmentation and a structured content calendar across email and social channels. I designed and built email templates, managed bi-weekly campaigns, and regularly analysed performance to optimise engagement. As the communications lead, I developed integrated marketing strategies aligned to business goals, ensured brand consistency across all channels, and oversaw the website to keep content relevant and high performing. I also managed online reputation through key review platforms and produced a wide range of creative content, including brochures, blogs, and social assets, driving stronger customer engagement and growth.

TWOGETHER: MIDDLEWEIGHT CREATIVE ARTWORKER (2022 - 2024)

Progressing into a Middleweight Digital Creative Artworker role was an exciting step that expanded both responsibility and creative influence. I operated as a quality gatekeeper, finalising designs with precision, applying client amends efficiently, and producing new assets that aligned seamlessly within broader campaign systems. I became a trusted mentor to junior team members, guiding them through best-practice artwork standards and workflow efficiency. This experience significantly elevated both my craftsmanship and confidence, while reinforcing my enthusiasm for fast-paced digital creative delivery.

IMMACULATE: CREATIVE ARTWORKER (2019 - 2022)

Stepping into a Creative Artworker position opened the door to broader industry knowledge across both print and digital formats. Working closely with designers and project managers, I transformed creative concepts into polished, production-ready artwork while maintaining meticulous attention to detail as the final checkpoint before print or online release. During this time I further developed my UX skills, creating website landing pages and supporting early app design projects, which strengthened my capability to deliver visually compelling assets with a clear user-focused purpose.

GLASSUP & STOSKI: MIDDLEWEIGHT GRAPHIC DESIGNER (2017 - 2019)

Drawing on agency experience and progressing into a Middleweight Designer role, I thrived in this small, multi-functional environment. I significantly deepened my expertise across the Adobe Suite and contributed bold creative thinking, particularly for start-up brands looking to establish a compelling visual identity.

ALEMBA: JUNIOR GRAPHIC DESIGNER (2015 - 2017)

Building a strong foundation in both print and digital design while adapting quickly to a fast-paced agency environment.

BACHELOR OF ART (2012 - 2015)

University for the Creative Arts - Graphic Communication (1:1 level achieved)
